

Casts for One-Act Plays Announced by Thespians

Casting of the one-act plays written by Torrance High students has been completed and rehearsals are now underway, it was reported this week.

Overseeing the production of the three plays are Jim Crain and Dwight Hanna, production managers; Jo Ann Benard, business manager; and Bob Hubbard, technical director.

Now in rehearsals are the plays "Little Innocent," written by Sandra Pestoff; "My Innocent Darling," written by Jo Ann Benard and Jeanette Lopez; and "Romeo and Juliet," written by Leo Meltved and Ted Loyd.

Sheriff Seeks Walteria Man, Son for Burglary

A 19-year-old Walteria youth and his father, whom Orange County sheriff's deputies wanted in connection with a number of burglaries there, apparently have "vanished from sight," the sheriff's office reports.

The pair are wanted for questioning: they were first captured in the lootings after Floyd J. Polston, 18, 2351 Park St., is being held pending a further investigation. Police departments from Bakersfield and Gardena, and the Los Angeles Sheriff's Department put "holds" on the father had forced the two boys into pulling the jobs.

Orange County Sheriff's Sgt. Boyd Sturgis said that Polston is being held pending a further investigation. Police departments from Bakersfield and Gardena, and the Los Angeles Sheriff's Department put "holds" on the father had forced the two boys into pulling the jobs.
